DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 28 January 2010 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bosch et al. (US 6,241,472) in view of Rains et al. (US 4,209,259). Regarding claims 1 and 7, Bosch ('472) discloses a device comprising an inner stationary ring (the inner most ring of 40) and a concentric outer ring (one of the rings of 38), the rings arranged with a close fit and having a plurality of through recesses opposing each other (see Fig. 3). It is not explicitly disclosed that the device is driven without a shaft. Rains explains that it is beneficial to drive a rotor in a vessel magnetically, using a drive unit outside the vessel without a shaft, because no seals are required (see col. 5 line 66 to col. 6 line 5). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have driven the rotor of Bosch in this manner to achieve the benefit of eliminating the need for seals. In the embodiment of Fig. 3, the outermost ring of the stator is more outward than that of the rotor. However, teachings of alternatives such as Fig. 20 versus Fig. 21 would convey to one of ordinary skill in the art that either the rotor or the stator could have the outermost portion. Regarding claims 2 and 3, the shearing recesses are otherwise shaped holes (see Fig. 3). Regarding claims 4-6, the structure of the rings is shown in Fig. 3.

Response to Arguments

4. While applicant is correct that in the embodiment of Fig. 3 of Bosch the outermost ring of the stator is more outward than that of the rotor, other portions of the reference such as Fig. 20 versus Fig. 21 express an understanding that either the rotor or the stator may have the outermost portion.
